HAUTAUQUA PROMISES PROGRAM OF BIG FEATURES

Days of Fun, Music and Educational Entertainment
To Start Here Next Wednesday Afternoon
May, 2nd.

The program outlined for the six days of the Hautauqua festival this year is one of the best that has ever been offered to the people of Redwood City by the Hautauqua Association. The five talented young ladies who compose this quintet have succeeded in captivating audiences in France, England, Australia, New Zealand and America. Their contribution to this year's program will be much enjoyed.

A musical entertainment will be given on the afternoon of Sunday, the fifth day, by the Lombard entertainers, who also appear for the prelude of the evening. The lecture in the evening of this day will be given by Dr. Henry Gauss and his wife. Dr. Gauss is an inspiration, yet intensely practical speaker, and his lecture for this season on "The Little Science of the Mind" will be an intellectual treat of outstanding merit.

On the sixth and last day of the program, the afternoon entertainment will consist of a lecture and entertainment by Norman V. Pearce. Mr. Pearce will bring with him a wonderful exhibition of curios from Australia. "The World's Curiosity Shop," which will also be the subject of his lecture. The closing concert in the evening of the same day will be by the Garner Jubilee Singers, featuring folk songs of the South, plantation songs, operatic and concert numbers. The talent and ability of the seven colored artists composing this group have earned them the reputation of being the finest jubilee company in America. Their repertoire includes difficult operatic arias and classical numbers as well as the world yet beautiful negro "spirituals" and the old southern favorites.

The Hautauqua is too well known to the people of this vicinity to need any further introduction, this is its seventh year and it has come to be looked upon as essentially a part of Spring, as the wild flowers. An innovation this year will be holding it in the old grammar school instead of in the usual big tent. If you haven't tickets for sale, several of your friends have. Don't miss this rare entertainment.

On the afternoon of the first day, the program will give an entertainment which will be followed by the children's Magic Lantern Show and the Little Science of the Mind.

Boosters Meet To Further Pageant

If the spirit of enthusiasm of the booster meeting held in the civic auditorium here last Monday night is any indication of what the pageant will be, it is safe to predict that the fields of San Carlos will prove too small to accommodate the crowd. With all the progressive communities on this side of the hills represented, in some cases as with Rummymede and San Carlos, nearly the whole community being present, the meeting formed one of the best yet held by the peninsula people.

Speakers from South San Francisco, San Bruno, Belmont, San Carlos, Redwood City, Palo Alto and Rummymede were heard and their remarks left little doubt as to the pep of the meeting. Music was supplied by the San Carlos tribe of Indian maidens to the accompaniment of an accordion. Some of the forty-nine whistlers of Rummymede brought samples of the fine facial foliage to the raising of which the salubrious climate and fertilizing atmosphere of that flourishing poultry district is especially adapted.

The next meeting will be held in San Bruno on the 7th of May at which time it is said that all those who packed the civic auditorium here last Monday night will attend with their "sisters, their cousins and their aunts."

RUNNYMEDE NOTES

The vice-presidents of the local organizations in the colony are in charge of the program given Saturday evening, April 28th in the school auditorium and the proceeds will be used to buy furniture for the auditorium. After the program there will be dancing with music furnished by the new Rummymede orchestra which is making its first appearance at this program. The following numbers have been arranged: Overture—Orchestra; motion picture, "His Wife's Business"; violin solo, Richard Parkin; Dutch specialties, Miss Ruth and Miss Leah Harris; vocal duet, Mrs. H. E. Simpson and Mrs. W. H. Low; accompanied by Miss Margaret Negus; violin solo, Arthur Stranaky; farce—"My Wife's Relations." The cast of characters for the farce includes the following all Rummymede folks: Geo. V. Hand, Mrs. Geo. V. Hand, Mrs. John Grimes, Mrs. F. B. Hand, Mrs. B. Crosby, C. T. Self, Emily Gravestock, Irene Crosby, Carol DaMant and F. B. Hand. Tickets for adults are 25c, children under 13 years 10c.

Next Wednesday is the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Club. The program topic is California's Landmarks and Mrs. A. E. Martinelli will present the subject.

Professor W. H. Waterhouse of the University farm at Davis will show pictures and talk in the interests of the boys and girls' agricultural clubs next Tuesday evening, May 1st in the school auditorium.

The Days of '49 has been assigned to Rummymede for the Pageant of Progress and the arrangements for participation are in the hands of a committee consisting of two from the Woman's club, two from the P. T. A. and two from the chamber of commerce and the committee expects co-operation of everyone to make it a credit to Rummymede.

The Hard Times dance given by the athletic committee of the chamber of commerce to buy uniforms for a baseball team recently organized was a success. The prizes for the most unique costumes were won by John Grimes, proprietor of the Rummymede grocery and Mrs. Fred Davis of Palo Alto.

A new bungalow is being built in the Miller property on Cooley avenue. A tank house on the Merwin place on Manhattan and new poultry houses are being built by Elmer Bartlett on Euclid avenue.

Runnymede sent the largest representation of any community on the peninsula to the booster meeting at Redwood City Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Burgess of Yuba City, cousins of the O. D. Wells, are guests at the latter's home this week.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AND PRESENTATION AT ST. PETERS

Last Sunday morning services at St. Peter's Church were an unusually interesting character. A large congregation united in paying tribute to the beloved memory of Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle, presiding Bishop, who died the preceding Tuesday. In the memorial sermon the rector gave a brief sketch of the Bishop's life and work and Prof. O. M. Carrington sang a solo appropriate to the occasion. A pleasing incident during the service was the presentation after the sermon by the rector of a large photograph of the venerable presiding Bishop, suitably framed, to Mrs. Keith, an old personal friend of Bishop Tuttle. In making the presentation, Mr. Carrington stated that he gave him great pleasure not only because of their mutual acquaintance with the Bishop, but also as an opportunity to express his personal appreciation of Mrs. Keith's faithful and loyal service as church organist and Sunday school teacher.

WOODSIDE CHIRPS

Alameda has always claimed for itself the distinction of being the greatest rose garden in the west, but I doubt if it can show anything more gorgeous than the rose hedges of Woodside at the present time. Cherokee and La Mark and Beauty of Glazenwood seem to vie with one another in the multitude of their blooms so that the bright green of the leaves is barely discernable as the background for the pink and white and salmon colored petals.

In one thing only have I always been willing to acknowledge the superiority of the Southland. We have no feathered songsters to compete with the mocking-birds of the citrus belt. There the nights are made melodious and wakefulness loses its terrors when one can listen to a concert by these consummate artists. The best efforts of our canaries and finches is but a mandolin tinkle compared to the full throated music of these western mockingbirds. But yesterday morning I awoke as the sun was peeping over Mt. Hamilton with a bird-song for a moment that made me think for a moment that some long wanderer from the south had found his way to this valley. The fullness of tone was there, but it lacked the infinite variety of the mocker's song. So I need must up and out to prove the identity of my aerodrome, and in the top-most branch of a cypress tree, I found the first oriole of the season.

I find that the birds are already facing the difficulties over building materials that are predicted for humans when our forests shall have been depleted. My bird friends were their heads in dismay over the catatonic of nature that has deprived them of the beautiful and serviceable horsehairs whose pliability, light weight and great tensile strength gave such a feeling of security to the nest.

While fear is being expressed in many quarters that our wild flowers are doomed to destruction even as our wild game has been destroyed, there are some who meet the situation in a very practical way. Wm. Lee Hathaway of Woodside, last fall, scattered more than a hundred dollars worth of wild flower seed over the meadows of his estate. These are now passing from a splendid bloom into seed, the charm of our grass and pasture lands.

Mrs. Laura Abraham was taken suddenly ill a week ago and was removed to the San Mateo hospital in the expectation that an operation would prove necessary. She has so far recovered that it is now believed that an operation can be avoided.

Mr. Thomas Stewart will leave for New York on Sunday. There she will take the Aquitania across the water and spend three months of a vacation with her relatives in Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert, former residents of Redwood Highlands and now living at San Jose, were visitors on Sunday, at the home of Mrs. John D. Gish.

Tony Dido has taken over the management of the prune orchard on the property of the late Clara B. Hooper. This orchard has been neglected for some years, but eight years ago it produced the finest prunes I have ever seen. It is to be hoped that Tony brings it back to the old standard.

It is surprising what a little competition will do in developing spirit in an athletic team. Up to a few weeks ago the boys of our school knocked the baseball about the diamond in a listless sort of way without regard for the finer points of the game. Then they were trounced badly by the team from Las Lomas school. After that they buckled down to play and on Wednesday

Many Aspire to Be Queen of Fair

Who will be queen of the Peninsula Pageant? That is the question that is agitating the young ladies of the entire peninsula. Already there are twenty names on the list of candidates and the race has hardly started. Now is the chance for some fair maiden to break into royalty and it looks like the girls are not going to miss the chance. Besides being crowned by the governor, the fortunate winner of the queen contest will be presented with a $225 diamond ring. The girls ranking second and third in the contest will act as maids of honor to the queen and will receive presents in proportion to their station. The following names have already been nominated: Dorothy Lyons, Ida Stafford, Beris Smith and Dorothy Borgensen from Redwood City; Amelia Johnson from Belmont; Laura Vanderlain, Blanche VanThyne, Pauline Brooks and Emily Gravestock of Rummymede; Dorothy Taylor of San Mateo; Gladys Uech, Florence Johnson, Elizabeth Huribut, Louise Roberts, Beale Lind, Valde Drake, Marvin Cowgill, Lucille Schaeffer and Ellen Odgers of San Carlos.

Resolutions in favor of the bridge were addressed to the board from about twenty chambers of commerce and other civic organizations, both on this side of the bay and on the Alameda side. A large attendance of representatives of different organizations which are interested in the bridge were present including: Fred H. Drake, of the San Carlos

Roth of Stanford University, who dwelt on the advantages of a bridge to persons attending football games at Palo Alto; Supervisor John MacBain of San Mateo county; Fred G. Cartwright, San Francisco engineer; H. B. Toll of the Morgan Oyster Company, and the following representatives of chambers of commerce: J. H. Sullivan, of Menlo Park; C. S. James of Niles; Frank S. Veit of Newark; F. M. Drake of Niles; C. A. Steere of Palo Alto; F. K. Towne and R. H. K. Smith of Redwood City and R. R. Waterbury of Ravenswood.

Plans, specifications and soundings necessary for the bridge had been made and filed with the War Department, which Col. Deakynne represents, several weeks ago, before the franchise was asked for and granted by the supervisors of San Mateo county.

POST REMEMBERED

Wednesday afternoon all of the children of the Monterey school, situated north of Halfmoon Bay, gathered with flowers. The posties were then arranged in beautiful bouquets and presented to Mrs. Harr Wagner in honor of her birthday. The flowers were accompanied by a note, written by one of the girls and signed by all of the pupils, which wished Mrs. Wagner a very happy birthday.

Mrs. Wagner has written a great deal of very fine poetry, her best known volume being "The Lure of the Desert." She wrote under the name of Madge Morris and was a frequent contributor of eastern magazines. Mrs. Wagner came to California via steam as a very small girl and was one of the first women reporters in the state. With her husband she has resided in Monterey for some years, but has not been in the best of health. She is the mother of Mrs. M. B. Johnson, wife of our state senator, and Miss Morris Wagner who has gained prominence through her raising of Toggenberg goats.

afternoon, redeemed themselves by winning the return match on the Las Lomas diamond. The score was close, 1 to 12, but both teams put up an excellent brand of grammar school baseball. The team was made up as follows: Pitcher and captain, John Volpiano; catcher, Oliver Gish; 1st base, Tom Shine; short stop, Elliot Bartholomew; 2nd base, Jack Hosford; 3rd base, Rupert Bradley; right field, Alfred Daniels; center field, Emmett O'Neil; left field, Vernal Kelley.

May one who for many years has been interested in the history and romance of the days of the Lion Hearted Richard, "a brick" at the recent film production of Robin Hood. Having seen the "sets" on the "lot" at Hollywood, and having seen some of the scenes in the taking, I am prepared to believe all the program stated as to the number of tons of concrete and steel used. But I feel inclined to doubt the months of historical research said to have preceded the production. Certainly Wallace Berry made a most undignified, unkindly and unsatisfactory King Richard, and it is hard to believe that any "jumping jack", whatever his acrobatic agility, would have had much influence among the robber bands of Sherwood forest.

DUMBARTON BRIDGE RECEIVES SANCTION OF FEDERAL OFFICIAL

Colonel Deakynne Favors Bridge and Has Recommended That the War Department Grant Franchise

The action of Col. Herbert Deakynne in recommending the granting to the Dumbarton Bridge Association of permission to build the bridge across the bay, practically assures that the necessary permission will be granted. Col. Deakynne held a hearing on the bridge question last Friday afternoon at which time any one who had any objection to the construction of a bridge was given an opportunity to give their reasons for opposing it. Only a very feeble protest was made, which was chiefly from the Schilling interest who own some of the marsh land on the Alameda shore where the bridge would connect. It was claimed by the Schilling interest that the building of the bridge at the proposed location would interfere with the reclamation of the land.

Resolutions in favor of the bridge were addressed to the board from about twenty chambers of commerce and other civic organizations, both on this side of the bay and on the Alameda side. Miss Della Paradi, a sister of Mrs. John Weller of this city, died last Sunday at the San Mateo hospital after a long illness. Miss Paradi had been confined to the hospital for fourteen weeks prior to her death. Born and raised in San Mateo, Miss Paradi had a wide circle of friends who grieve her loss. She had been connected with the Zobel millinery store for many years and was well known in San Francisco.

Funeral services were held last Tuesday morning from the home of a sister, Mrs. M. J. Powers of San Mateo, and then from St. Matthew's Catholic church, where a mass was celebrated. SCHOOL TRUSTEES' ATTENTION

State Superintendent of Schools, Will C. Wood, wishes all school trustees to take note of the fact that Assembly Bill 153 by Wright has passed both houses of the legislature and is now before the governor for executive approval. This bill transfers liability from the trustees to the district, thus freeing the trustees from danger of personal damage suits in case anyone injured on school premises. Mr. Wood desires school officials to urge Governor Richardson to sign this bill.

SATURDAY, APRIL 28, 1923
AN INFLUENCE FOR PROGRESS

There has probably never been any one step in the development of the peninsula of greater and more lasting importance than the construction in 1863 of the San Francisco-San Jose railroad. Built to connect these thriving trading centers, it also served to open up the county of San Mateo to settlement, and brought the little villages which were built along the old county road into closer touch with the rest of the country than they ever would have been but for the "links of steel" of that pioneer railroad. Prior to 1863 the only means of travel along the peninsula was by horse or by means of the little bay steamers which used to ply between Redwood creek and the city. Two stage lines were the only means of commercial land transportation, one operated by John W. Whistman, the other by Ackery & Morrison, but in bad weather the roads were impassable and the stages sometimes did not run for several weeks at a time. The opening up of the railroad was truly the beginning of the development of San Mateo county. The county's pioneer editor wrote, "we can then go either way," (to San Jose or San Francisco) "and come back the same day." We don't think much of that today, but it meant a great deal to the people of the county in those days, and the results of the little coal-burning locomotive, not much larger than our automobiles of today, which puffed its way from San Francisco and back once a day, may be said to be inestimable.

RUNNYMEDE THE REMARKABLE

What is it in the atmosphere of that little corner of our great county which lies down near the Dumbarton bridge which makes the most casual observer realize that Runnymede is progressive and is due for great things in the future? They have a perfect climate to be sure, but that is characteristic of the greater part of our county. Then, too, the soil is perfectly adapted to the growing of most anything which is put in it, but that too is a general condition in San Mateo county. What, then, has made the little poultry raising, berry growing community one of the "boostingest" places on the peninsula? There is only one answer, and that is CO-OPERATION. Runnymede has just enough of the farming spirit to be a big neighborhood, where the people are interested in each other's welfare and in the well-being of their district. It is the spirit of neighborliness that has put Runnymede into the booster class. They say, "Don't forget Runnymede." We won't, we expect great things from Runnymede, and we'll not be disappointed.

SAVAGERY AND CIVILIZATION

Among the aboriginal inhabitants of this country, we have read of the dance frenzies as part of the savage religious worship, in which the poor deluded Indian would aspire to a free pass to the Happy Hunting Ground by dancing to death. The death dance as a religious rite, in this country, as dead as our old friend Marley, yet, like Marley's ghost it has an eerie way of reappearing at times and shaking its chains right under the nose of our boasted civilization. We are having an example of chain shaking at the present time in some of our eastern cities. The mania to dance and keep on dancing has hit some of those who apparently have no more important occupation. One man has died after dancing continuously for 90 hours, others are trying to break the record. The authorities of New York tried to break up a six day dance orgie, and the dancers moved onto a boat and sailed out past the three mile line. We do not see why the authorities should interfere. If they dance themselves to death, we are not so sure that the loss would be ruinous to the country or to the towns in which they live.

HARDING AND THE WORLD COURT

President Harding is to be congratulated upon his stand taken for American participation in the World Court. His move may not be good politics at the present time, but history will record it as a wise action of a thoughtful statesman.

The fact that the president wants the United States represented at the international tribunal does not argue that he desires us to take part in and become a member of the League of Nations. Indeed, the president has said that he will not under any circumstances enter the league. President Harding feels that we should be present as a nation in the World Court so that we may not only take part in all judicial proceedings concerning our own country, but that we may also express our opinion concerning other countries. At the last session of the court we had an unofficial observer who didn't hesitate to talk right out in meeting. We might just as well be officially present. The president wants to keep us out of war. He is not a watchful waiter. He says what he believes. We are strong for the president.

SENATOR SHORTRIDGE AT WASHINGTON

A pamphlet issued by the District of Columbia Society, Sons of the American Revolution, was received this week and on reading it we found it to be an address delivered by Senator Samuel M. Shortridge on "Washington—Liberty Under Law."

The speech was delivered by the senator early this year to the "Sons" and "Daughters" of the Revolution at Washington, D. C. It is a masterly interpretation of the life and ideals of the "Father of Our Country," and as he says at the beginning of his oration: "His fame increases; it grows with the flight of years. A century has come and gone since he closed his eyes in eternal sleep; but he lives—lives in the government he founded, lives in the principles he enunciated, lives 'first in the hearts of his countrymen' that beat with inalterable emotion at the mention of his sacred name."

We wish we could publish the whole address. It breathes patriotism and fervor. We can imagine the effect such a speech and such a speaker had on a patriotic assembly. Senator Shortridge has not ceased to belong to the whole United States.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Next Sunday will be a big day at the Congregational church. In the morning Rev. L. L. Lorber for seven years a Missionary teacher in India, will occupy the pulpit. Mr. Lorber is a forceful and eloquent speaker and brings with him a broad Christian message.
The writer of this notice heard Rev. Lorber at the First Church in San Francisco last Friday evening and was so impressed with his talk, that he persuaded him to give the people of Redwood City an opportunity to hear him.

Rev. Minkler who supplied for us two Sundays was persuaded to preach for us Sunday evening. Those who have heard Rev. Minkler will be glad of the opportunity to hear him again. Clarissa Dodge, organist.

WE MAKE THEM SOMETIMES, TOO

A contemporary in a nearby town ends an article on the Allen trial with this sentence, "Allen was sentenced to life imprisonment, escaping the gallows, after the jurors in the case argued over the punishment to be meted out for more than four years." Some argument! What?

NEW LINE THROUGH BELLEVILLE

The telephone company is erecting poles and stringing wires from La Honda past Troutmere and Peek-a-Boo to San Gregorio. This will be a great convenience to all of the homes in the Bell valley as they have heretofore been deprived of this most useful institution.

On Saturday last the western portion of what is to be the great transcontinental railroad was formally open from San Francisco to Mayfield. An excursion train, consisting of six passenger cars and a number of freight cars drawn by two splendid locomotives and carrying some four hundred passengers, ran from San Francisco to Mayfield, then returned to San Francisco via the coast line. The excursion was organized by the managers under the immediate supervision of our friend and patron, Saulman—than whom none could have done it better.

The locomotives are first class and the cars are gotten up after the most approved style of the east. On Sunday two trains ran each way and since then trains have run regularly on schedule time—one train each way daily, arriving here from the city at 11 a. m. When the road is opened through to San Jose, no doubt the company will find it to its advantage to run two trains a day each way, and then we can go which ever way we please and return the same day.

LOCAL SCHOOL CHILDREN

The success of the local school savings system in the Redwood City Branch of the Bank of Italy is most encouraging. At the present time 341 children attending schools in and around Redwood City have on deposit $4,915.22 in the school savings department of the local branch of the Bank of Italy. A bank book is given to every child who brings even "one cent" to school and subsequent deposits of one cent or more are accepted which are placed direct in the child's pass book. John P. Weller, manager of the Redwood City Branch, Bank of Italy, reports that 47,682 school children throughout California have now on deposit in the Bank of Italy. School Savings Department $1,175,945.92, a most remarkable record in this great economic movement.

LADIES OF REDWOOD CITY

The Sequoia Night School has informed us that summer sewing and millinery have begun and that a few more women can be accommodated by Miss Proctor, in charge of the work at the night school. The women bring their own sewing and Miss Proctor assists them. They may enroll for any length of time and learn any phase of sewing and millinery which they may choose. Classes meet Tuesday and Thursday at 7:15 p. m. If you can't be there at 7:15, come when you can. This is a community service; make use of it.

Discovery of San Diego Bay by Cabrillo

PREVIOUS to the accurate charting of the seven seas, California was believed to be an island of fabulous wealth, inhabited by Amazon women and situated close to Asia. Cabrillo set out from Mexico to discover this land of riches and to claim it for the Spanish crown.

His expedition sailed into San Diego Bay on September 28th, 1542. He is said to be the first white man to set foot on California soil. Before returning to Mexico, Cabrillo discovered the islands of Catalina, San Clemente, Santa Barbara and Santa Cruz.

It is also a matter of importance in California history that this wonderful state has furnished the cradle for America's greatest branch banking system—the Bank of Italy.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

The following marriage license was issued at Redwood City during the week: Robert Hernandez, 34, Menlo Park and Hilda J. Field, 23, Fargo, N. Dak.

A two story building is being erected on the corner of the Menlo avenue and the State Highway. There are to be two stores on the lower floor, while the upper part is to be an apartment. The structure is to cost $12,000. The apartment has already been leased to local parties.

The first strawberries of the season are grown in Menlo Park. For the past two weeks the fruit has been in the eastern markets and are bringing fancy prices. Last year Florida berries were first in the market, but this year Menlo Park beat Florida just seven days in getting its fruit to the big centers. Growers here claim that they get more to the acre than in any other place in the country. This is owing to the superior soil and splendid climatic conditions.

Mrs. Frederick W. Sharon has deferred her summer visit here to June. She is in New York visiting with various of her relatives who are also there at this time.

William A. Swain, an experienced garage man of San Francisco, has leased the Menlo Garage near the depot and will open it next Tuesday. He has installed an up-to-date equipment enabling him to give patrons a complete service. His service shop will be the very latest. Mr. Swain will no doubt develop a thriving business as the location is the best in town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dorsett of Gladstone, Oregon, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kurtz last week. The visitors left for Los Angeles and on their return north will remain in Menlo Park for several days.

The pupils of the higher grades of St. Joseph's school attended the Passion Play at Santa Clara University Thursday afternoon. The children were chaperoned by Mrs. James O'Keefe, Mrs. J. Moray and Mrs. J. H. Sullivan. The youngsters were much interested in the performance.

Mr. and Mrs. John Polhemus have rented Mrs. James Robinson's house in Woodside for the summer, and will move from town next month. Mr. and Mrs. Latham McMullin have occupied the Robinson house for several seasons. They have taken a house in Menlo Park this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Eyre are back from the South, where they passed several weeks on a motor trip. They will soon close their home in Pacific avenue and will go to their country place at Atherton for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Moore have rented their place at Menlo Park to the Motion Picture Locations Bureau and it will be the setting for some of the scenes of a new picture featuring Pola Negri.

The Moore place was built about three years ago. It is one of the most beautiful places in the vicinity and is noted for its beautiful gardens. The house is in the Spanish style of architecture and the gardens have been made to conform with the low, rambling buildings. Scenes from "The Cheat," the new picture will be taken in the garden, showing the exterior of the house and several days will be given to the particular scenes to be taken there.

Mr. George Fitzmaurice, the director, saw pictures of the house and grounds in an eastern architectural magazine and the place was rented through the Motion Picture Location Bureau of San Francisco. The bureau is headed by a group of society women, including Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. Augustus Taylor, Mrs. Daniel C. Jackson, Mrs. Laurence Irving Scott, Mrs. Templeton Crocker and others, and the money raised is used by them for charitable purposes.

Local Ike Waltons are preparing their rods and reels for the opening of the fishing season which commences next Tuesday. Trout are plentiful in all the mountain streams and at the source of the San Francisco creek. They are of fair size and possess plenty of pep so that fishermen may expect good sport at the opening of the season.

The Holy Name Society was organized in the Hall of the Nativity last evening. Fifty members signed the roll and a set of officers was chosen to serve for a term of six months. The society is organized for the mutual and spiritual benefit of its members.

The residents of Oak Grove avenue are taking the lead in local progress and are displaying the proper spirit in removing the fences in front of their pretty gardens. By the removal of all the fences on both sides of the street the thoroughfare becomes a veritable garden of the gods to be admired by all. Let the residents of other streets follow suit and Menlo Park will become a second Pasadena, known far and wide for its attractive gardens and pretty homes.

Last Saturday afternoon at one thirty a large part of the population of Menlo gathered at the intersection of Santa Cruz avenue and the Highway in about three minutes. The cause of the gathering was a collision between a brand new Buick driven by Mrs. Carl Johnson of Evergreen avenue, San Jose and a fine big brown Locomobile driven by San Francisco parties. Mrs. Johnson thought that the Loco was going to go onto the Highway and so tried to swing in behind it. Instead the chauffeur decided to stop and as a result there was a smash. Neither car was badly damaged, but each lost some perfectly good paint and will forever carry some scars that will surely show.

In San Diego it's RED CROWN by 220%

On a busy street corner in San Diego, a checker stood and asked the first hundred motorists that passed: "What gasoline do you use, and why?" 52 of them answered "Red Crown," as against 16 for the brand showing the next highest preference—a lead of 220%.

Not only in San Diego, but throughout the Pacific Coast field, Red Crown is the popular gasoline, because it vaporizes completely, burns cleanly, and is uniform always and everywhere.
